CORAM; A.M.KHANWILKAR J.

DATED l9.l.2006

P.C.

. All these matters have been placed before me under the caption "missing matters" (register nos and stamp nos are given). According to the office papers in respect of these matters are not traceable, though these matters are still pending. It is possible that some of the matters are already disposed of and correct noting in the office record has not been made in that behalf. The only way in which the problem can be resolved is by directing the parties in all these matters to reconstruct the record of the respective matter within six weeks from today, in the event the parties are of the opinion that the matters are still pending.Failing to reconstruct the record within the time specified earlier, office to proceed on the assumption that the concerned matter is already disposed of and will be treated as consigned to the record.

. If the record is reconstructed by the parties within the aforesaid time and if the office finds that the matter is still pending, same be listed under appropriate caption in lots of 5 with effect from 20.3.2006.

. In one case at serial No 35, I am informed that the matter is still pending and has been tagged alongwith some companion matter.If such grievance is made by the advocate for any of the parties in any other case, office to verify the same and take appropriate steps as may be advised. I am not considering individual objection for the present. Office may proceed in the matteron the above terms. In case of any doubt in any particular matter, office may seek necessary directions of the case by placing the matter for directions.
